

A map of the Republic of Serbia showing its administrative districts. The capital, Belgrade, is highlighted in dark purple. Other districts are colored in shades of yellow, green, and blue. The map shows the geographical layout of the country and its internal administrative divisions.

